Description
This groundbreaking book presents a new way of looking at leadership that is anchored in research on women leaders in education. The authors examine how successful women in education lead and offer suggestions and ideas for developing and honing those exemplary leadership practices. Women and Educational Leadership shows how the qualities that characterize women’s approaches to leadership differ from traditional...
Educational Leadership: Global Contexts and International Comparisons

Series: International Perspectives on Education and Society, Vol. 11
Authors: Wiseman, Alexander W.
Resource Type: eBook
Description: This volume of International Perspectives on Education and Society investigates the changing face of educational leadership from comparative and international perspectives. Various definitions of leadership have transformed the way that educators around the world think about teaching, administration, and policy in recent years. Yet, there is relatively little known about how educational leadership works in many specific systems, cultures, and societies around the world. And...

Education & Educational Psychology

Popular Databases

- Academic Search Premier
  - This multi-disciplinary database has records for nearly 15,000 periodicals - journals, magazines, and newspapers - of which nearly 16,000 are peer reviewed. It provides full text for more than 5,000 journals, and you can use Journal Finder to locate articles that do not have a PDF readily available.

- EBSCO eBook Collection on EBSCOhost (WCSU)
  - Collection of over 20,000 ebooks in a variety of subjects.

- EBSCO Combined Databases
  - Search all EBSCO provided databases simultaneously.

- Education Research Complete
  - Education Research Complete covers the areas of curriculum instruction, administration, policy, funding, and related social issues. The database provides indexing and abstracts for over 2400 journals, with full-text for over 1400 journals, 500 ebooks, and numerous education-related conference papers. Topics covered include all levels of education from early childhood to higher education, and all educational specialties, such as multilingual education, health education, and testing.

- ERIC (Education Resource Information Center)
  - Educational Resources Information Center - definitive education database indexing articles and ERIC documents.

- JSTOR
  - Relaunched and comprehensive archive of important scholarly journal literature. Backfiles ONLY - no articles from within the last 5 years. ALL full-text.

Reference Materials - Dictionaries, Encyclopedias, Tests

- APA Handbook of Personality & Social Psychology (via PsycNET)
  - This resource summarizes current knowledge and advances in research and theory on attitudes and social cognition regarding human nature and tendencies, thought processes in judgment and behavior, and human experiences and motivations.

- DSM Library (Psychiatry Online)
  - The standard diagnostic tool used by mental health professionals worldwide to promote reliable research, accurate diagnosis, and thus appropriate treatment and patient care. Each psychiatric disorder with its corresponding diagnostic code is accompanied by a set of diagnostic criteria and descriptive details including associated features, prevalence, familial patterns, age-, culture-, gender-specific features, and differential diagnosis.

- ETS (Educational Testing Services) Test Collection
  - Database of more than 25,000 tests and other measurement devices most of which were created by authors outside ETS. It makes information on standardized tests and research instruments available to researchers, graduate students and teachers. With information about tests from the early 1900s to the present, the Test Collection at ETS is the largest compilation in the world.

- Health and Psychosocial Instruments Database (HPI)
  - Produced by Behavioral Measurement Database Services, HPI is a comprehensive bibliographic database providing information about behavioral measurement instruments. Information in the database is abstracted from hundreds of leading journals covering health sciences and psychosocial sciences. Additionally, instruments from Education are included. HPI Records provide information on questionnaires, interview schedules, vignettes/scales, coding schemes, rating and other scales, & more.

- Mental Measurements Yearbook w/ Tests in Print
  - Produced by the Buros Institute at the University of Nebraska, provides users with a comprehensive guide to over 2,000 contemporary testing instruments. Designed for an audience...

• RESEARCH Part 1a: Empirical Research (primary). When presenting one’s research, faculty generally discuss their research in terms of what they have done in an “experiment” (intervention) or what they have observed (descriptive).

• RESEARCH Part 2: Literature Search. Additionally, a critical piece of research involves gaining awareness of what others have done related to the topic. One manner of doing this is by reading research articles, located in scholarly journals, and writing about it.
Research ...

- The LIBRARY plays a role in that it subscribes to these journals, along with databases that index the journals, and makes them available to researchers. There are tens of thousands of journals.

- It would be impractical for a researcher to obtain every journal and examine the table of contents to locate relevant articles. The library subscribes to Databases, tools that organize resources in a way that helps researchers find information quickly.

International Journal of Educational Research

- Highlights
  - Validating the structure of anxiety predictors by means of control-value theory.
  - Confirms the role of self-efficacy for goal attainment as suggested by the theory of self-regulation.
  - Longitudinal validation study integrating assumptions of both theories.
  - Model integrating assumptions from both theories fits the data best.

Abstract:
Aim-Purpose: This study examined doctoral faculty of educational leadership within the state of Georgia in the United States. The aim was to illustrate the academic qualifications and practitioner experiences of the faculty that develop students in educational leadership programs to be scholarly practitioners and future educational leaders. Background: Faculty of educational leadership programs prepare their students to hold influential senior leadership roles in P-12 school administration and higher education administration. In this apprenticeship model, doctoral faculty utilize their academic qualifications and/or practitioner experiences to develop students into scholarly practitioners. Methodology: A descriptive quantitative study utilizing content analysis was conducted to examine faculty of educational leadership programs in educational leadership (n=10). Results: Basic demographic data and institutional information were collected. In addition, faculty were asked to rate the importance of various attributes. Through content analysis, we identified the academic qualifications and practitioner experiences of doctoral faculty in the field of educational leadership. Contribution: This study...

Abstract: Promoting the development of educational leadership in higher education is essential for strengthening the quality of teaching and learning. Additional research is needed to conceptualize educational leadership, especially within informal roles. We analyzed how faculty members in an academic development program conceptualized educational leadership. Five key characteristics emerged that

In Text Citations

Reference citations in text are covered on pages 169-170 of the Publication Manual. What follows are some general guidelines for referring to the works of others in your essay.

Note: On pages 65-66, the Publication Manual suggests that authors of research papers should use the past tense or present perfect tense for signal phrases that occur in the literature review and procedure descriptions (for example, Jones (1996) found or Jones (1996) has found...). Contexts other than traditionally-structured research writing may permit the simple present tense (for example, Jones (1996) finds).

Reference List: Electronic Sources (Web Publications)

Please note: Some electronic citations necessitate the use of brackets. APA style dictates that brackets should directly surround their content without spaces (e.g., [bracketed content]) should look like this. When possible, include the year, month, and date in references. If the month and date are not available, use the year of publication. Please note, too, that the OWL still includes information about print sources and databases for those still working with these sources.
